

Fig. 1: View over the city of Haifa

Fig. 2: Co-directors of the Course, Dr. Michaelson and Dr. Klein, in front of the Dept. of Emergency Medicine, Rambam Hospital in Haifa

Fig. 3, 4: Table-top drills in varied working-groups

Fig. 5, 6: Practical training for non-conventional (toxicological) weapon-attacks in the Medical Simulation Centre

Fig. 7: Drilling at the resuscitation unit

Fig. 8: New Emergency Department at the Rambam Trauma Centre

Fig. 9, 10: Preparation of „casualties“ for the practical exercise

Fig. 11, 12: Every patient is checked for possible radiological contamination and photographed for identification purposes

Fig. 13: All medical documentation is prepared and a specific identity-number remains with the patient

Fig. 14: Blood bank technician taking samples

Fig. 15, 16: Taking care about multiple patients simultaneously

Fig. 17: General view of the Emergency Room

Fig. 18: Detailed debriefing of all participants after the exercise

Fig. 19: Listening to the presentations of instructors on the course

Fig. 20: Dr. Walter Kaffenberger from NATO Headquarters addressing the participants

Fig. 21, 22: Post-course ceremony: the granting of diplomas

Fig. 23: Participants and lecturers from the course